campus

People involved are among the most important factors deciding the success of an institution. At Morris Harvey, student mixes are stressed and encouraged. Dr. Leonard Riggelman, president of the college, plays host to the first student gathering of the year with the President's Reception. In the picture below a group of students get acquainted at the reception while sipping punch and posing for the photographer. They are from left to right: Pat Kelly, Jim Vandell, Bill Childers, Francis Jones, Grant Barnett, Jackie Dye, Clarence (Pug) Lowery, and Joe Romano.

Certain to play a part in adding new acquaintances will be the new girls dormitory being constructed. Loretta Hammer and a friend look over the blueprint while workmen lay out the walls.

Another example of the mixture of people at Morris Harvey is its cosmopolitan community being added to each semester. Eight students from other nations are enrolled this year. Sophomore Julia Fuller explains some of the school's activities in the photo at lower right. They are Yaing Sook Chum and Haing Ug Choi from Korea. Close friendship between students create the kind of school spirit Morris Harvey is working for.

It consists of two representatives from every social sorority and fraternity and three faculty members. The purpose of the council is to promote the best interests of the Greek letter social organizations of the College and to assist them in contributing to the success of the entire program of the institution. Meetings are held weekly at 10:30 A.M. on Wednesdays.

chi beta phi

The Epsilon Chapter of Chi Beta Phi consists of men and women who wish to foster interest in science and to stimulate proficiency in science courses. It was installed in Morris Harvey College on May 19, 1923, as a chapter for men, but, on April 12, 1946, Epsilon Sigma Chapter, which had operated successfully as a chapter for women since March 31, 1939, merged with the older chapter. To be eligible for membership, a student must have completed satisfactorily 20 semester hours in the natural sciences and mathematics and be enrolled in additional courses in these departments, or must have completed more than 20 semester hours. Meetings are held monthly, and recent advancements in science are discussed by chapter members or by visiting scientists.

The Chi Beta Phi Science Medal is awarded annually by the chapter to that student of the College who attains the highest average on the first 24 hours of college science, provided that the average is 90 per cent or above. The medal was awarded last year to Paul M. Westfall.

"Oh, I'm disgusted!" were theme songs for Harveyan workers, but all's well that ends well.

Phi Sigma Phi, one of the leading organizations on the campus, continues to live up to its standards of the past. Last spring the Phi Sigs took first place in the first annual May Sing.

In the leadership of the student body the Phi Sigs are well represented, such as president of the Student Council and president of the Junior Class, plus having many officers in other organizations on the campus.

After school resumed in the fall, Phi Sigma Phi staged its annual "Friendship Hop" in honor of all incoming students to Morris Harvey College. Later came the "Turkey Hop," then the Christmas Formal.

Phi Sigma Phi was organized on October 20, 1927, at Concord State Teachers College and the local chapter was formed November 14, 1929, at Barboursville. Uniting men students, instilling a spirit of campus fellowship, and promoting the interests of the college are Phi Sigma Phi goals.

Bob Johnson is the energetic president of the Sigma Delta Phi Fraternity.

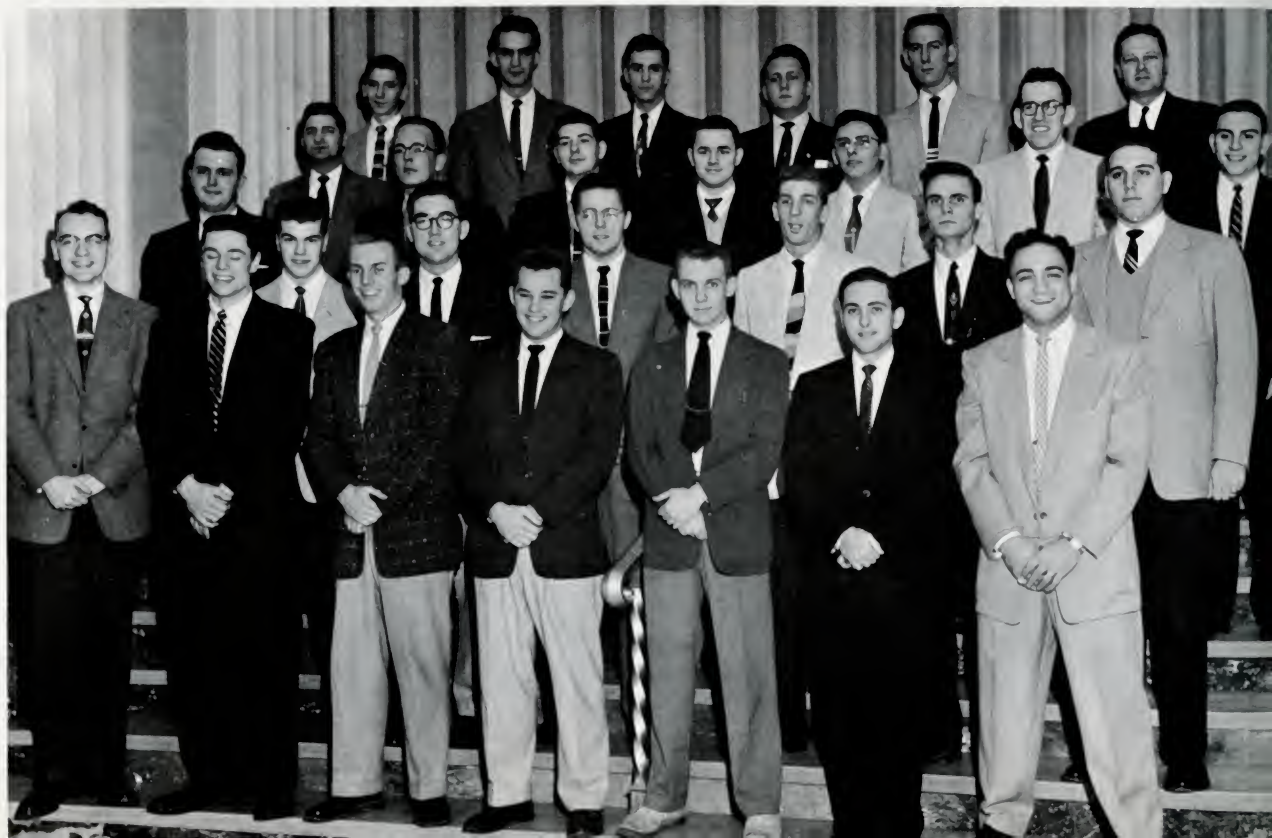

Possessing the largest membership of any Greek organization on the Morris Harvey campus, the Sigma Delts have progressed since they were organized in January, 1950.

With the colors of Scarlet and Stone in front of them, the brothers have made great progress in their social activities. Included among the numerous activities sponsored by the Sigma Delts are a Welcome Dance, Plymouth Rock Dance, Christmas Formal, Spring Swing Dance, and, topping the list, a three-day Sweetheart Weekend, the first weekend of this sort on the campus.

Through the foresightedness of high morals, leadership and devotion to their college, this fraternity placed many officers in student organizations during the school year 1954-55. The Sigma Delts were also well represented on the athletic teams with Fauster Viftone, Bob Spenik, Bob Maxwell, and Joe Romano, playing football; Jack Lawhorn playing basketball; and Ted Boehm in baseball.

George Carter of South Dorm fires a jump-shot in intramural action.

Recreation is not the sole purpose of college life but should be regarded as a valuable part of the student's experience. There are many opportunities for guidance in an intramural program with the contact between the faculty advisor and student participants, team managers and officials. There are opportunities to guide the participants in their attitudes toward their teammates, their opponents, officials, and safety to themselves and others.

The intramural program at Morris Harvey provides physical recreation activities to the entire student body.

Intramural sports provide opportunities for the student to meet and play with other students. They exchange views and find mutual interests that make for good social relationships. Intramural sports give the student opportunity to learn the meaning of loyalty and co-operation.

The volleyball championship was won by Y-Men with So. Dorm placing second.

Heralding the incoming spring was the holding of a May Court in which a student elected May Queen and her host of lovely attendants were presented to the students. Other functions of the ceremony included announcing the incoming Student Council President and having a "May Sing" contest. In the May Sing, campus groups and organizations competed with each other in a test of vocal talents. Pageantry with grace highlighted this event which annually starts the spring off right on the Morris Harvey campus.

CIGAR BOWL

Tampa, Florida
Dec. 17, 1954

0 — Tampa University 21

Completing their most successful season since 1950, the Golden Eagles of Morris Harvey posted an 8 and 1 record, losing only to traditional foe Marshall College 25-14.

Breezing through four West Virginia Conference foes for their fifth consecutive conference championship, the Eagles ruled the roost again in the W.V.I.C.

Salem fell before the Eagle onslaught in the season's opener at Laidley field 41-6 as the Gold and Maroon gave a preview of things to come.

Otterbein and Baldwin-Wallace, neighboring Ohio schools, were next on the schedule. The "Otters" a newcomer to the agenda were defeated 34-7. B-W, a thorn in the GE's side for three previous seasons, were sent home with a humiliating 27-6 setback.

The only blemish on the 1954 grid season was the disheartening 25-14 loss at the hands of Marshall College at Fairfield Stadium in Huntington, W. Va.

West Liberty, West Virginia Tech, Heidelberg, Concord, and Moorehead remained on the Gold and Maroon schedule and between them only three touchdowns were scored against the defensive minded King's-Men.

Cigar Bowl bound with the hopes of a fourth straight post-season victory the Eagles were turned back 21-0 at Tampa, Florida by the Spartans of Tampa University to conclude their season with an impressive 8-2 record.

Bob Hill and Ray Jones lift Salem player high, as Vittone stands by.

December seventeenth plainly marked on calendar gives George Carter, Joe Cielensky, and Paul Skidmore plenty of reason to smile.

"There's my name," Gummy tells Fauster Vittone in lobby of hotel in downtown Tampa.

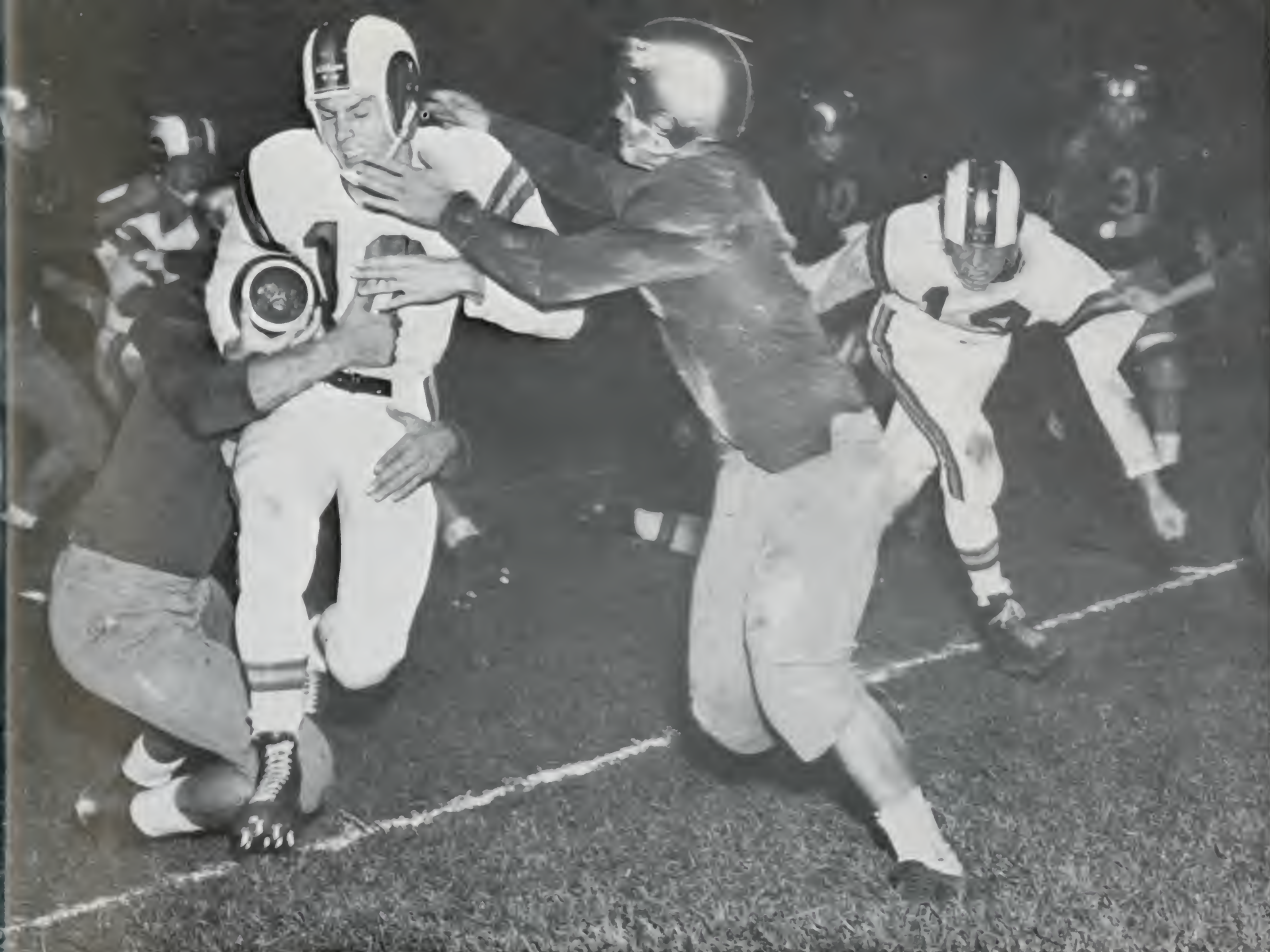

Baldwin-Wallace line attempt fails to gain through Morris Harvey forward wall as Vittone and Fitzsimmons rush to assist.

Question: Will Morris Harvey defeat Baldwin-Wallace after three futile tries? Answer: Yes; Score: 27-6.

Quarterback Bob Maxwell is pulled down after long gain in Salem encounter. Bob Hill moves in a little too late.

End run by all-conference Jim "Gummy" Carr is halted by unidentified B.W. player.

basketball

Morris Harvey's Golden Eagles, starting the season off with a considerably "green" team, ended the season very much improved, that gives promise for a bright future next year.

Dave Rosen, All-Conference and Little All-American selection of last year, was ruled ineligible because of his playing ball at Tiffin College his freshman year. With only one regular to build his team around, Coach Eddie King did a great job of developing the new material on hand.

Cap Smith and Davey Hoffman were the only regulars from the previous season, but a knee injury troubled Hoffman until the season was well under way. Smith, the boy who fools everyone with his unconcerning attitude, came into his own at the latter part of the season. A great ball handler with an effective jump shot, Cap played steady ball and was toughest when the pressure was on.

Returning also were veterans Dick Darby who returned from the Army and Jack Lawhorn who played good ball this year. Also new to the MH squad was center Jim Vandell from Beckley College, who was runner-up to Smith in scoring, and his teammate Leland Richmond, a scrappy little guard who hustled constantly.

Many promising freshmen came on the cage scene this year and the outlook for next year seems very promising. First-year men such as Bill Jones, Frank Martin, Bob Paskel, Larry and Vincent Tyree, and Mike Dayoub comprise a group who should have a bright future at Morris Harvey. One of the most pleasant surprises among the freshmen was footballer Dana Kirk, who showed he had plenty of ability in basketball with his tough rebounding and rugged play.

Starting the season off in high gear the Eagles won their first three games. First Beckley 80-67, then Glenville 99-81, and Davis-Elkins 82-80, before losing to Ohio University 81-88. After winning three of the first four the Eagles then defeated the Republic of China team before losing to conference foes Salem and Alderson-Broadus.

Cap Smith and Jim Vandell were leading the scoring in these first seven games, Cap with 28.2 average and Jim right behind with a 22.2.

MH continued to win over WVIC foes as they beat West Liberty 103-94 and Bethany 93-80 to run their conference record to 5-2 and third place.

Extending their conference winning streak to four straight games the Golden Eagles romped over Potomac State 94-63 and edged the Blue Hawks of Beckley in overtime 87-84.

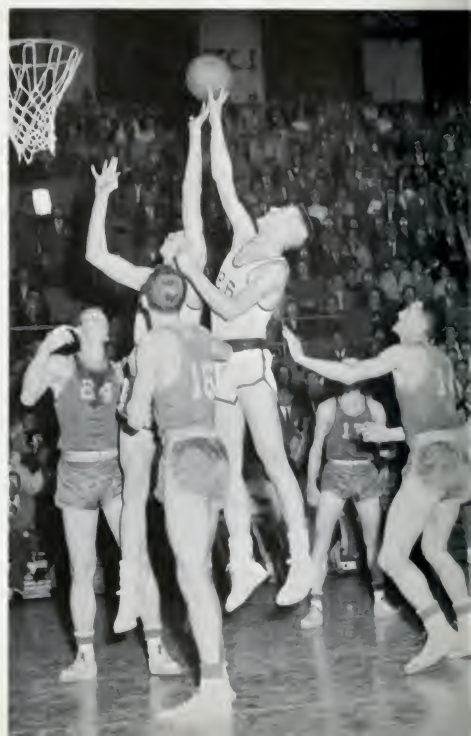

Carrying the scoring load was Cap Smith and Jim Vandell, but other Eagles started playing great ball. Also helping improve the Eagles' game, though not scoring in the high figures, were Dick Darby, Jack Lawhorn, Leland Richmond, Bob Paskel, Dave Hoffman, Jerry Chandler, and Mike Dayoub.

Meeting high scoring W. Va. Tech for the first time in the season, the Golden Eagles were defeated 113-91. After losing to Tech, the Eagles hit a slump, dropping games to W. Va. Wesleyan 87-78 and Glenville 90-89.

MH got back on their winning ways by defeating Salem 101-82, and then played a great game upsetting league leading A-B 91-89. Then came a loss to arch-rival Marshall 108-94 and a victory over Concord 110-94 which put the Eagles into a tie for third place.

Coach King explains some strategy in the Eagle's huddle during a time-out, while boys on the bench discuss the game.

Cap Smith caught in mid-air by the camera, loses the ball as two W. Va. Tech players close in on him.

Freshman star Jerry Chandler leaves the floor for a driving lay-up under the outstretched arm of Glenville's Smith. MH won 99-81.

Mike Dayoub, Morris Harvey freshman, goes high in the air to grab a rebound against W. Va. Tech, while Dick Darby watches the action.

Trying to figure out a defense to stop the Golden Eagles seems to be the aim of the Chinese Nationalist's coach as he talks to his players. The Golden Eagles won 84-67.

Morris Harvey cheerleaders leap high in the air as they cheer the Eagles on in a game with conference foe Potomac State.

Coach Eddie King seems to be relating a humorous incident to star guard Cap Smith in the WVIC contest with Salem College.

Taking a "swat" at W. Va. Tech's Swyers is the Eagle's Cap Smith, while other Tech players stand by to rebound the shot.

Caught in mid-air after attempting a lay-up is Dick Darby, as Leland Richmond stands ready in the Potomac State game.

Definitely the underdog and fifth in the conference standings, a determined and inspired Morris Harvey five fought an uphill battle to win the 1955 West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference Tournament championship.

Defeating West Liberty in the first round of play 74-67 was supposedly the extent of wins MH could possibly gain, because either high scoring W. Va. Tech or much improved Davis and Elkins would be the outclassed Eagles second round opponent.

Tech, the nation's leading scorer and George Swyers fought a hard battle before bowing to the Golden Eagles 86-81 for the first time in three starts during the season.

Concord, in the semi-finals, put up a valiant resistance but the Gold and Maroon of Charleston rolled to an impressive 99-62 victory which assured the Eagles a crack at Alderson-Broadus in the finals and an NAIA playoff berth.

Alderson-Broadus, regular season champions with a 23-4 record and Carl Hartman who set a new four-year scoring mark, bowed in an overtime thriller 89-86 to the boys from Morris Harvey who had played their hearts out overcoming such tremendous odds.

"Cap" Smith, star guard and high scorer for the Eagles, along with center Jim Vandell, placed on the all-tournament team.

Morris Harvey ended the campaign with a loss to W. Va. Wesleyan in the NAIA playoffs. The score was 97-87.

Many thanks to Frank Wilkin and Paul Casto for the fine sports photos.

Cap Smith is surrounded by Concord players as he goes after the ball in the semi-final game. Jim Vandell (26) tries to edge in. MH won 99-62.

All-tournament guard Cap Smith fires his famous jump shot in the championship game against A-B. MH won 89-86.

All-tournament center Jim Vandell shooting a jump-shot against West Liberty in the opening round. Number 33 is Dana Kirk. MH won 74-67.

This picture of the second round game between W. Va. Tech and Morris Harvey shows all the players on both teams as they fight for position under the basket.

With the loss on only three of last year's diamond "nine" by the way of graduation, Coach "Sparky" Adams was greeted with a fine nucleus of nine returning regulars and eleven lettermen.

A front line pitching staff consisting of juniors Bob Brown, Bob Hill, Bert Waldron and Clarence Lowery, who are all returning lettermen and well-experienced moundsmen, are ready for action. J. D. Kidd, Bob Douglas, and Buddy Kearns left vacancies at catcher, second base, and third base. These positions if filled by capable players should give MH a rugged and well balanced team.

Tommy Dixon and Melvin Vaughn, the team's two top hitters of last season, are expected to be the Eagle's big threat. Bobby Maxwell and Paul Rice along with Dixon round out the Gold and Maroon's fly-chasers.

Returning to the shortstop position is sophomore George Bennett. Backing-up last year's starting "nine" are such promising performers as junior Grant Barnette, and sophomores Bill Chandler, Bill Coutz, and Ted Boehm. These boys along with newcomers to the squad will be vieing for starting assignments left open last year.

Out to better last year's 3 won and 14 lost record, the Morris Harvey Golden Eagles launch their 1955 diamond season with practice starting March 15.

2,500 MILES

protection*

Back and forth across miles of buried pipeline—that's his patrol, the territory he guards vigilantly. He's a linewalker, checking on part of the network that supplies your gas. He is just one of an army of gas company employees working to prevent emergencies—one of the men never at your door but always at your service.
